Summary

This is an announcement to all those participating in the 2011 Australian Masters Surf Life Saving Championships and 2011 Australian Surf Life Saving Championships. The program has been revised and the dates are now 2/04/11-11/04/11. See below for the full event schedule. As a result of the normal review process, alternative programming days have now been scheduled into the Championships to offer competitors, volunteer officials, the event workforce and all those involved in the Aussies with rest periods throughout. As the event continues to grow in the future, it is important to build more flexibility into the programming. Stay tuned to the SLSA website www.slsa.com.au for the full timetable due to be released in the coming months.
